This great injustice to rural schools was recognized by the state legislature and the amendment proposed to section 6 article x, was passed almost unanimously by both branches thereof.

By voting to amend the section reterred to, we simply make it possible for the legislature to regulate equitably the tax hurdens of the people.

The people of Utah cannot afford to let this opportunity to right a wrong pass. The welfare of the free public schools demands that section 8, article x, of the constitution of the state of Utah, be amended. Yours respectfully.
